Wilmington, North Carolina to Host 25th Anniversary Conference Edition

March 26, 2024 – Techno Security & Digital Forensics Conference, the resource for digital forensics, cybersecurity and eDiscovery professionals working in both private and public sectors, returns to the Wilmington, North Carolina Convention Center for the 25th anniversary edition of the East coast event June 4-6, 2024.

The robust educational program includes over 120 sessions and 130 speakers delivering cutting-edge content for the digital forensics, cybersecurity and e-Discovery industries. Speakers will cover topics including Artificial Intelligence, Cloud Forensics, Cryptocurrency Investigations, Dark Web, Data Breaches, Insider Threat, IOT, OSINT Ransomware and more.

Kicking off the conference at 8:00am, Tuesday, June 4th, Dr. Roman V. Yampolskiy, Futurist, Author, Professor will present Navigating the Artificial Intelligence Era: Challenges and Strategies for Future of Cybersecurity. During this talk he discuss the paradox that AI will bring for cybersecurity and share how cybersecurity experts can prepare to address the impact from AI in the context of AI safety and security.

Jennifer Salvadori, Event Director, states "This year we had a record number of submissions from industry leaders from around the world in both the private and public sectors, many focused around AI. In response to attendee feedback over the years, the line up this year will include more case studies, hands on labs and panel discussions, showcasing "real life" examples of issues facing the technology driven world of today."
